UMFA Docent and Volunteer Newsletter: January 2016

LONG LIVE ART!

Long Live Art! Kickoff Party Saturday, January 16 and Sunday, January 17

We're kicking off the year with a weekend full of art making, films, tours, music, yoga, dancing, and more. Visit our home away from home, the Marcia and John Price Museum Building, one last time before we temporarily close the building.

For the full schedule click here.

Yearly Evaluations

In previous years January was when you completed anonymous program and self-evaluation surveys. This year I am carefully crafting program evaluations to gain very specific information in order to make improvements to our program. As a result, the evaluations will go out a little later than usual, in March.

Thank you everyone who filled out a pARTners evaluation last month.

2016 UMFA Volunteer Trip: Washington D.C. May 24th to May 29th

Watch for an email detailing an itinerary, registration deadline, and prices coming to your inbox before the end of the month!

Until then, here are some tidbits:

We will be staying in the historic and pituresque city of Alexandria, VA minutes away from downtown Washington DC.

We will visit the The Smithsonian Insitution museums of Asian Art and African Art, as well as The National Museum of Women in the Arts and The National Gallery of Art, to name a few.

Volunteer Hours

We will compile our 2015 volunteer hours soon. All active volunteers and docents please make sure you have submitted all of your hours for 2015 by February 5. Submit online here or in the binders in the education and engagement offices by January 17.

Don't hesitate to email or call me at amy.noorlander@umfa.utah.edu or 801.581.3580.

Daily Team Meeting Ideas

In each edition of Art Insight this year I will provide ideas for the following month's Daily Team meetings. This month I gathered ideas from our education and engagement staff and reading suggestions from the curatorial staff. More next month!
